WORKSHOP BROCHURE

Why This Workshop Exists

Over two focused days, participants undergo a shift in mindset that enables them to navigate complexity with clarity, confidence, and intent. In a world increasingly shaped by artificial intelligence, we empower people to remain grounded, reflective, and capable.

This is not a technical training – it's a fundamental reset in how you perceive, relate to, and lead with AI.

What You'll Experience

✓ Two intensive days – including overnight stay – for deep focus, clarity and reflective work

✓ A learning format built on impulse sessions, guided exercises and meaningful reflection

✓ An exclusive group setting limited to 10 participants to enable trust, exchange and growth

✓ The choice between open workshops or tailor-made in-house formats for teams and organizations

✓ Delivery in English or German at selected locations across Europe

✓ A workshop designed not around theory – but around changing how you think, decide, and lead

Is This for You?

✓ You want to understand and master AI – rather than be overwhelmed by it

✓ You've realized that AI only becomes a threat if you do nothing

✓ You are ready to take responsibility for your role in a changing world

✓ You're not looking for technical training, but for clarity, reflection, and strategic readiness

✓ You believe the future belongs to those who engage – not those who wait

The Core of Our Approach

This workshop creates a safe but challenging environment to explore what AI means for human work – and for your own role in it. Participants examine the shifting boundaries between human and machine, reflect on responsibility and agency, and learn to act with focus and foresight.

What emerges is not a checklist, but a new level of readiness.
